SICK OF POLITICS? Maybe the Lord can bring us together in this hilarious new play starring legendary actor Ed Asner as a wise and cantankerous God. Talk about typecasting!

Conservatives vs liberals. Red states vs blue states. Sometimes it seems like we'll never find common ground. In the play, God Help Us, Mr. Asner hopes to bring audiences of all political leanings a little closer to civility.

SUNDAY APRIL 7 3:00 PM

Ed Asner is an actor best known for his role as Lou Grant from the TV comedy The Mary Tyler Moore Show. He starred as the voice of Carl Fredricksen in the animated film Up, and as Santa in the hit film Elf. The winner of 8 Emmy Awards and 5 Golden Globe Awards, he is equally adept at comedy as he is at drama.

Danbury High School teacher, Karen Anderson co-stars in the play alongside WCSU adjunct professor Anthony DePoto. This very capable trio comprise the three-ingredient recipe for laughs in this clever and thought-provoking comedy.
